The Learning Imperative

Raising performance in organisations by improving learning

Mark Burns and
Andy Griffith

The Learning Imperative, written by bestselling authors and learning specialists Mark Burns and Andy Griffith, addresses the most common barriers to effective learning and provides practical strategies for overcoming them.

But even avoiding these pitfalls far from guarantees effective learning, so the authors also guide the reader through the key principles in designing learning programmes that directly improve performance.

The Learning Imperative is the Business Book Awards 2019 HR and Management book award winner.

The authors' work was shortlisted in the Best Learning & Development Initiative – Public/Third Sector category of the 2018 CIPD People Management Awards.

The Learning Imperative was also a finalist in the 2018 INDIES Book of the Year Awards in the Business and Economics category.

The Trainer's Toolkit

Bringing brain-friendly learning to life

Kimberley Hare and Larry Reynolds

A concise guide to brain-friendly training design along with tools that you can pick and adapt to help you create new training events or make-over existing ones.

True brain-friendly learning is not about gimmicks. It's a movement rather than just a method. This book provides a blueprint for a new generation of Accelerated Learning methods and at its heart are five key principles:

- Keep it real
- Facilitate the flow
- Honour uniqueness
- Make it rich and multisensory
- State is everything.

There is a clear explanation of the theory behind brain-friendly learning from the inside out – including the concepts and learning models you'll need to underpin your approach, along with a journey through the most complex structure in the universe: your amazing brain.

Kimberley Hare has been described as 'a pioneering visionary for change and learning'. Her focus is on helping individuals, teams and organisations to create the future they want.

Larry Reynolds is the principal consultant at 21st Century Leader and has 20 years' experience of developing leaders and trainers in a wide range of organisations.

Paul Z. Jackson is an independent training consultant with a wide spectrum of clients in both the private and public sectors. He has worked as a print journalist, senior producer for BBC Radio 4, lecturer at Bath Spa University College, and teacher at the London Actors Centre.

58 1/2 Ways to Improvise in Training

Improvisation games and activities for workshops, courses and team meetings

Paul Z. Jackson

Whether you are running a training session, a workshop or a team meeting, Paul Jackson's varied collection of games and activities will help you create an environment of improvisation and experimentation, of imagination and energy, and of laughter and commitment.

What better way to engage everyone in the process of learning?

The games in this book can be used in a variety of ways. A physical activity warms up limbs and breaks down barriers between group members. A verbal activity is an exercise in creativity and intellectual dexterity. More than simply icebreakers, these activities are designed as vehicles for content. There are always links between the game and the subject of the workshop at a metaphorical level.

Laughology

Improve your life with the science of laughter

Stephanie Davies

A practical self-help guide to using laughter and humour as a thinking skill and life skill to make you feel better and enable you to communicate more effectively.

Laughology, written in an easy to understand, fun, informative way, takes a psychological look at how humour can influence your behaviour, help you feel better and live a happier life.

Simple techniques and exercises will improve the reader's ability to gain a more positive perspective in difficult situations, change his or her mood, and increase happiness through adopting the techniques from the Laughology model.

The author, Stephanie Davies, has over ten years' experience of developing interventions that have been applied in a wide variety of settings dealing with complex public and mental health issues and building teams in high profile organisations.

Stephanie Davies is recognised as one of the UK's leading voices in the psychology of laughter and humour. She is an award-winning stand-up comedian who has worked with world-renowned Dr Patch Adams exploring the relationship between health, humour, community and the arts.

Since establishing Independent Thinking 25 years ago, Ian Gilbert has made a name for himself across the world as a highly original writer, editor, speaker, practitioner and thinker and is someone who the IB World magazine has referred to as one of the world's leading educational visionaries.

The Compleat Thunks® Book

Ian Gilbert

In a world gone dangerously bonkers, we need The Compleat Thunks Book: a collection of beguiling questions about everyday things that stop you in your tracks and help you start to look at the world in a whole new light.

At times controversial and often provocative, Ian Gilbert's brainteasers are sure to stimulate philosophical enquiry and debate during the thinking, reasoning, logic or panic employed in arriving at (or deviating from) the answers and conversations that ensue. In other words, it's not about the answers at all and, as in life, there are none at the back of the book.

Are you responsible for the actions of your democratically elected leaders?

Are you who you say you are?

Do we all grow old at the same rate?

Is it more of a romantic gesture to buy someone flowers on any day but Valentine's Day?

The Salmon of Knowledge

Stories for work, life, the dark shadow, and oneself

Nick Owen

A collection of stories, analogies and metaphors that invite us to pause and consider what is really important in our lives, our work and ourselves.

The stories invite us to slow down, take more time to reflect, experience the world from wider perspectives, and make wiser and more sustainable choices. They invite us to put ourselves squarely in the centre of the ongoing story that is our life, to take greater responsibility for connecting to what serves us, others and the wider context, and to find a greater variety of ways to express ourselves fully through our life, our work and everything we can be.

Varied and wide ranging, the stories are pragmatic, some spiritual, some light-hearted, some provocative, some work-related, while others still are closer to home. All of them challenge the reader to consider the life they are currently living, and ways they could deepen and enhance it for themselves and others in a wide variety of applications and contexts.

What are we called to do in our lives and how can we discover and express our personal and professional genius and purpose? Not easy questions but Nick Owen has been struggling with and exploring them for himself and with others through his writing, editing and storytelling – as well as in his workshops, seminars and coaching sessions – for the last several decades.

The Magic of Metaphor

77 stories for teachers, trainers and thinkers

Nick Owen

Presents a collection of powerful stories designed to engage, inspire and transform the listener as well as the reader.

Promoting positive feelings, confidence, direction and vision, the stories supply a wealth of advice and information on the art of creating metaphor and storytelling.

More Magic of Metaphor

Stories for leaders, influencers, motivators and spiral dynamics
wizards

Nick Owen

With a particular emphasis on leadership, the stories in this collection offer inspiration, inner knowledge and wisdom. Metaphors are incredibly powerful vehicles through which real change can be generated in the world, and can be used to influence, motivate and lead others with elegance and integrity.

Leader

Know, love and inspire your people

Katy Granville-Chapman
and Emmie Bidston

Practical, evidence-based and optimistic, Leader will inspire leaders in any setting to lead through service and empower them with the tools to help their team flourish.

Foreword by Sir Anthony Seldon.

In this wide-ranging book, Katy Granville-Chapman and Emmie Bidston eloquently combine up-to-date research in psychology and neuroscience with inspiring examples of success to show that leadership can be learned and that it is all about looking after your people.

They take you on a journey to meet a diverse selection of great leaders from multiple spheres – from the sports field to the corporate world – and talk you through the process by which effective leaders have become great leaders. The secret lies in mastering three key principles: know your people, love your people, inspire your people.

Suitable for both aspiring and established leaders looking to help their teams flourish.

“Seamlessly combines fantastic stories with laser-sharp questions to help you grow your leadership capabilities. Exceptional.” – Will Greenwood, former England rugby international and 2003 World Cup winner

Katy Granville-Chapman is a deputy head teacher, an affiliated researcher at the University of Oxford’s Wellbeing Research Centre and the co-founder of a global leadership programme which has participants in 102 countries.

Emmie Bidston is head of economics at Wellington College and director of the Wellington Leadership and Coaching Institute. She also runs conferences, coaching and leadership training for adults and young people.

As founder of Innate Leaders – and as a psychological coach, management consultant and writer – Joe Britto has worked with a wide range of entrepreneurs and leadership teams across the non-profit, public and private sectors. His grounding in experiential learning, along with his studies in literary theory and psychological coaching, has allowed him to create a unique methodology that has successfully facilitated sustainable results.

The Six Attributes of a Leadership Mindset

Flexibility of mind, mindfulness, resilience, genuine curiosity, creating leaders, enterprise thinking

Joe Britto

In this insightful handbook, Joe Britto shines a spotlight on the qualities and behaviours that embody a leadership mindset and inspires leaders to step out of their comfort zone as they take on the challenges faced by their teams and organisations.

With the help of engaging stories, practical challenges and an acute sense of humour, Joe guides you through six key attributes of leadership – flexibility of mind, mindfulness, resilience, genuine curiosity, creating leaders and enterprise thinking – and explores in detail how you can bring them to life both within and beyond the workplace.

In doing so, he reveals the real gift of a leadership mindset: that as we grow our mindset and cultivate positive behaviours, we can lead ourselves and our teams to better outcomes and nurture the leadership capacities of others.

Sex, Leadership and Rock'n'Roll

Leadership lessons from the academy of rock

Peter Cook

Offers a real-world source of inspiration and provocation in areas such as creativity, innovation, relationships, motivation, leadership, high performance, learning and reinvention.

The unique approach springs from the mix of leading-edge concepts with the wisdom of the street in the form of rock music. This is served up in a quirky, challenging but intelligent way.

Peter Cook has skilfully synthesised these diverse viewpoints due to his background, both as a business academic, MBA graduate and tutor, strategy consultant and thought leader and also as a musician, writing and performing music, in rock bands.

The book examines the issues using the analogy of 'Sex, Drugs and Rock'n'Roll' rather than the language of prophets, consultants and gurus. In this context, the letters MBA stand for Management By Attitude.

Peter Cook leads Human Dynamics and The Academy of Rock, a creativity and innovation consultancy with an enviable network of associates around the world. We facilitate strategy, creativity, innovation and change through bespoke consultancy, masterclasses, keynotes, training, coaching and mentoring.

L. Michael Hall is a cognitive psychologist who through research into NLP and self-actualisation psychology is now a modeller of human excellence.

The Collaborative Leader

The ultimate leadership challenge

Ian McDermott and
L. Michael Hall

A practical guide to collaborating with others and leading collaboratively.

That means learning how to win the hearts and minds of those who we lead. Packed with practical and immediate action points, this book will show you how to turn around a non-collaborative group or environment immediately.

You will find assessment questions throughout, step-by-step processes on collaboration, and an invitation to action at the end of each chapter: a personal challenge to step up to the collaborative level of leadership. Learn the core competencies that facilitate a healthy, joyful and productive collaboration.

Whether you're responsible for team or organisational development, you'll find plenty here to inspire you to transform your leadership into collaborative leadership.

The Magic of NLP Demystified – Second Edition

Byron Lewis

With new and updated material, this is the second edition of a work which has long been regarded as one of the best introductions to NLP and, in particular, its Language of Communication model available.

It introduces the reader to a remarkable new approach to the study of human communications and therapeutic change. Byron Lewis guides you along the fundamental principles of NLP in an easy to digest, often amusing way.

Why demystified? Because the well-organised presentation of the meta-model as you find it here makes it more accessible and is enriched by to-the-point examples, illustrations and comic strips.

Managers, sales people, consultants, therapists, parent educators and anyone interested in or involved with influential communications and personal change will benefit from reading this book, which is written in an informal and entertaining style.

Byron Lewis studied under Dr John Grinder, participating in the original research that laid the foundations for NLP. During the 1980s he was the director of the Meta Training Institute, conducting seminars and workshops in the field of NLP.

Performance Coaching

The handbook for managers, H.R. professionals and coaches

Angus McLeod

In Performance Coaching, Dr Angus McLeod brings together the fundamentals of all the best practice in coaching and builds up from there.

Unlike so many of the coaching books already on the market, this book is for coaches, not clients. Fast, accessible and clearly written, Performance Coaching is comprehensive and rich in real examples of real executives achieving real success in real-life situations.

Dr Angus McLeod is a well-known and respected coach through his practice with individuals, teams and professional coaches. He is widely published in the United States and Europe on coaching and team development issues. Angus continues to influence the coaching profession through his online mentoring service 'Ask Max' and leadership of The Coaching Foundation, a not-for-profit organisation that offers career development opportunities to professional coaches.

Professor Angus McLeod is pre-eminent in coaching technology and practice. His company Angus McLeod Associates trains coaching skills for managers, leadership and management development 'learning journeys' and e-learning solutions as well as supplying one-to-one coaching.

Jackie Beere worked as a newspaper journalist before starting a career in teaching and school leadership. She was awarded an OBE in 2002 for developing innovative learning programmes and is the author of several bestselling books on teaching, learning and coaching. Since 2006, Jackie has been offering training in the latest strategies for learning, developing emotionally intelligent leadership and cultivating a growth mindset.

GROW

Change your mindset, change your life – a practical guide to thinking on purpose

Jackie Beere

In GROW, Jackie Beere demonstrates how we can all change our mindsets, learn to learn and choose to think on purpose.

Our thoughts and beliefs lead us to develop habits that can predict our success or failure. We can all choose to grow – and coach our loved ones to do the same – by fostering and sustaining a mindset that will keep us healthy and happy in future years. The key to this is thinking on purpose and metacognition, and in this book you'll learn how you can understand yourself and others so that you can be flexible, fearless and happy.

By thinking on purpose, we can all become more resilient, adaptable, self-confident and successful. Jackie's refreshing approach means this is a personal development book for everyone – even if you think that's not usually for you. Honest and to-the-point, Jackie takes a pragmatic approach to useful mind management techniques, putting the theory into practice through numerous case studies.

The ABCS of Coping with Anxiety

Using CBT to manage stress and anxiety

James Cowart

James Cowart offers a concise collection of tried-and-tested strategies from cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) and makes them accessible to people who are learning to cope with their anxiety on a day-to-day basis.

James Cowart's aim in The ABCS of Coping with Anxiety is to share a toolbox of CBT techniques garnered over 40 years' clinical practice that will enable you to manage your anxiety on a sustainable path toward taking back some of that control. These self-help strategies focus on developing key coping skills designed to reduce fear and anxiety, and are complemented by a user-friendly, step-by-step program of practical exercises that can be personalised to meet each individual's unique needs.

Informed by his extensive experience and therapeutic knowledge, and with real-life case studies to guide you, James's easy-to-remember ABCS approach is as transformative as it is simple.

James Cowart is a psychologist with a special interest in providing CBT to people suffering with anxiety disorders. He has a PhD in Applied Behaviour Analysis and is a member of the American Psychological Association.

RULES FOR MAVERICKS

A MANIFESTO
FOR DISSIDENT
CREATIVES
PHIL BEADLE

Phil Beadle knows a bit about bringing creative projects to fruit.

He is the author of ten books on a variety of subjects. He has won national awards for both teaching and broadcasting, was a columnist for the Guardian newspaper for nine years and has written for every broadsheet newspaper in the UK, as well as the Sydney Morning Herald. Phil is also one of the most experienced, gifted and funniest public speakers in the UK.

Rules for Mavericks A manifesto for dissident creatives

Phil Beadle

A guidebook to leading a creative life, to being a renaissance dilettante, to embracing your own pretension and, most of all, to dealing with your failure(s).

This genre-flouting manifesto is written by someone who has achieved and has failed in more than one field. As a Guardian columnist, award-winning teacher, award-winning broadcaster, author, editor, singer, songwriter, producer and public speaker, Phil Beadle knows a bit about leading a life producing good work across a variety of platforms. In this elegantly written book he glides and riffs around the idea of maverick nature, examines the processes of producing good work in creative fields and broaches the techniques that orthodoxies use to silence dissident voices.

Rules for Mavericks is for anyone who wants to live and work more creatively and successfully.

Also available as an audiobook, ISBN 978-178583178-2.

Consult Yourself

The NLP guide to being a management consultant

Carol Harris

Essential reading for anyone involved or interested in consultancy.

Suitable for independent consultants, partnerships, associates and new entrants to large consultancy practices.

The book includes:

- essential NLP-based consultancy strategies that will revolutionise approaches to planning, analysis, problem-solving, IT, networking and marketing; and
- techniques to enable the reader to manage more time-effectively, present information, interview, coach, collaborate, evaluate and be confident.

Carol Harris has, since 1986, run her own independent consultancy and training practice, Management Magic, which specialises in the development of people and organisations. Prior to that she was, for seven years, Director of Personnel and Administration for the Arts Council of Great Britain.

Martin Roberts is a retired management consultant with extensive experience of change management in practice. He has worked at the highest level with many of the UK's top 100 companies and also has extensive experience in working with US corporations. Over the last 30 years he has developed an enviable reputation for solving problems seen by others as insoluble.

Change Management Excellence

Putting NLP to work

Martin Roberts

Having worked with top British and American companies for over 30 years, Martin Roberts has developed an enviable reputation for solving problems.

He attributes this success to his ability to adapt and apply NLP, Behavioural Modification, Gestalt therapy and Transactional Analysis techniques from the field of organisational psychology.

This book is about achieving excellent change management using a variety of techniques and contains many new concepts and applications for consultants, would-be consultants and everyone involved in change in a business setting. It also provides an intriguing insight into why many fashionable 'cook-book approaches' to change run into problems – and how to avoid repeating them.
